VOLUME FIFTY-SIX—NUMBER TWENTY-THREE

GRAYLING, MICHIGAN, THURSDAY, JUNE 21, 1934.

O. P. SCHUMANN, Editor and Proprietor.

What Other Editors Have To Say

GOOD, MR. STACK!

John K. Stack, Jr., auditor general, has not always been the most agreeable public official nor has his appointments to public office always been of the best. For instance it is pretty generally understood that his cancellation of the land tax sales of 1933 were intended to bring at least as much relief to the Stack Lumber company with its huge timber holdings as it did to the "dear people" talked about. Mr. Franklin K. Dodge was not altogether a popular choice and when Mr. James E. Mogan, country banker out of a job, was hoisted to the position of the sales tax board with $2000 a year in emoluments above the statutory salary set by the legislature, this was not so good.

But Stack's demand for a grand jury to smoke out the fee gamblers that infest the state capital is right and proper. Either there is altogether too much loose talk about bartering in pardons and contracts, jobs and appointments, franchises and special privileges or there is something going on which should be stopped. It is time the people knew the truth. A grand jury and a grand jury alone will clear this whole muddy, murky stream.

It is true that others in the state administration, taking their cue from Mr. Stack's insistence on a grand jury inquiry, beat the auditor general to the wire. Nevertheless it can't be denied that Stack's insistence on a full disclosure of all wrongdoing led the others to see the light. At any rate it is quite certain that some of the dirty linen now hanging about the state capital will be aired.

The NEWS is happy also that the matter of receivership for closed banks, the mess which exists in the affairs of the liquor control commission, as well as matters pending before the utilities and other commissions at Lansing are to be inquired into.—Ingham County News, Mason.

A BUILDER OF BRIDGES

Gov. Comstock appears determined to have a bridge built across the Straits of Mackinac at an estimated cost of $38,000,000, the Federal government to furnish the money. Only a few years ago, Mr. Comstock was one of a number of men interested in building a bridge across the Detroit river, a project which on paper at least, was supposed to net a very tidy little profit on the investment. But somehow or other things didn't work out according to advance estimates. Not a penny of profit was ever made and the bonds are in default. Yet this bridge across the Detroit river costs only a fraction of the amount that will be required to connect the upper and lower peninsulas. In view of these facts it is difficult to see the line of reasoning by which Mr. Comstock arrives at the conclusion that his $38,000,000 bridge will be a howling success. Fortunately all save one of Michigan's contingent of Democratic congressmen have promised to fight this measure on the floor of the house if necessary. The Straits bridge appears to have very little chance of ever getting past the "pipe-dream" stage, for which we all may be truly thankful.—Hastings Banner.

Grayling To Play Roscommon Sunday

Grayling base ball team will play at Roscommon Sunday. The latter boasts of a good, fast team and they hope to take the scalps off the locals when they meet Sunday. However, Grayling is going good and it will take a good team to defeat them.

On Sunday, July 1st Kalkaska will come here for a game, and on July 4th Lewistown will be here. Here are some games for the local fans, which we are sure will be welcome news. Base ball is the great American game and it is rare to find a person who does not enjoy them. Plan on attending all of the games. Remember the dates and plan to be there.

The Grayling players are all local fellows. The lineup of Grayling players is as follows:

Gordon Pond—3rd Base.
Walter Smith—Center Field.

Plead Guilty To Larceny

Sheriff Bennett got the goods on Ed. Horning last Friday night and the latter paid a fine of $18.00 and costs, amounting to $26.65.

Horning was charged with larceny. A pocketbook was stolen at the Peter Lovely restaurant Friday evening. It was reported to Sheriff Bennett. Suspicion pointed to the elder Horning said Sheriff Bennett and he was brought to the jail for questioning and search. The son, whom was with him, also was searched, but nothing was found on either. Then the Sheriff requested Under Sheriff Frank May to examine their car which was in front of the Peter Lovely restaurant. He too found nothing.

Then young Horning was ordered to get the car and drive back to the jail and take his father home. After he started, Bennett followed by a shorter route and watched young Horning from a dark spot. He saw him go to the back end of the Peter Lovely car and pick up a pocketbook and put it into his pocket.

Returning to the jail the Sheriff again beat him back and as Horning got out of his car he began taking the money out of the pocketbook and when he saw the Sheriff approaching he threw the empty pocketbook across the street toward the Adler Jorgenson home. When accosted he denied what he had done but when the Sheriff found the abandoned pocketbook he admitted that he was guilty. The pocketbook had contained $11.00.

Entertain Bay City Garden Club

MR. AND MRS. H. B. SMITH, JR. HOSTS TO 21.

Twenty-one members of the Bay City Garden club came to Grayling Tuesday and were guests of Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Smith, Jr. and Mr. and Mrs. William E. Slaven, of Bay City, at the summer home of Mr. and Mrs. Smith on the AuSable river.

The members of the Garden Club were here to study wild flowers and found scores of specimens along the nature trails that wind picturesquely thru the grounds of the beautiful AuSable property of the Smiths, where they grow in abundance. Mr. Garlock, Bay City horticulturist, a member of the club, pointed out the different varieties of wild flowers, giving their name, their nature and their origin, respectively.

At noon the members enjoyed a luncheon. Among the table decorations was a miniature canoe filled with wild flowers. The Smith summer home is a delightful place and we're sure the visitors found Mr. and Mrs. Smith and Mr. and Mrs. Slaven gracious hosts, and ones who equally enjoy their guests.

The latter were as follows: Mrs. McKinley, president of the Garden Club; Mrs. Robert Eddy, Mrs. F. D. Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Clayton R. Garlock.

Mrs. Hoyt Smart, Mrs. Lyle Cliff, Mrs. Frank Sweeney, Mrs. Russell Eddy, Mrs. William Jenkinson.

Mrs. W. L. Clements, Mrs. Cranage, Mrs. James Duffy, Jr., Mrs. Otto Toepfner, Mrs. Charles Porter.

Mrs. Charles Coryell, Mrs. R. H. Evans, Mrs. G. Wight Cooke, and Mrs. L. S. Holden, the latter from New York City.

LT. LIBCKE GIVEN FAREWELL BANQUET

Lt. John W. Libcke, who has been commanding officer of AuSable OCC camp 681 since last November was given a farewell banquet by the officers and men of his camp by whom he was so much admired, last Friday evening. Very special menu lists were prepared and at the banquet Andy French, office clerk, acted as toastmaster, and Lt. Libcke and others were called upon and in turn gave short impromptu talks.

Lt. Libcke is returning to his position for the City of Detroit and as a token of the esteem in which he was held by the camp men and officers he was presented with a beautiful fountain pen and pencil set with his name and the company name engraved upon them.

This is a very fine recognition but probably not any more than Lt. Libcke rightly deserves.

Class of 1934 Graduates

Sunday evening the annual commencement exercises of Grayling High School began with baccalaureate at Michelson Memorial church. Last evening the Class day program was held and tonight is Commencement when the 23 members of the class of 1934 will receive their diplomas signifying that they have finished the required work in Grayling school.

This year there was an unusual situation in which two sisters, Virginia and Matilda Engel split the valedictorian honors, having each had the same marks all through their four years of High school work. The class chose for their motto "Build for Character and not for Fame"; the class flower is the sweet pea, and class colors silver and blue.

The program for baccalaureate night was a very appropriate one and Rev. H. J. Salmon delivered a very fine sermon. There were several musical numbers among which was a contralto solo "How Lovely are Thy Dwellings" beautifully rendered by Mrs. Harold Jarmain. Rev. Hans Juhl gave the invocation and the scripture lesson, and there was a large congregation of parents and friends in attendance.

The Class day program held last evening was as follows:

Selection—High School Orchestra.
Co-Valedictory—Matilda Engel.
President's address—Emil Kraus.
Class History—Donald Kangas.
Clarinet solo—Lucille Hulme.
Class Prophecy—Lucille Wheeler.
Class Will—Thelma Chappell.
Giftatory—Robert LaMotte, Charles Taylor.
Selection—High School Orchestra.
Class Poem—Robert LaMotte.
Co-Valedictory—Virginia Engel.
Class Song—The Class of '34. (Written by Lucille Hulme).

For Commencement tonight the following program will be presented: President H. M. Crooks of Alma College, who is a very eloquent speaker, will give the commencement address and a large crowd should hear him.

Program

GRADUATES' ROAD AHEAD

From high schools and colleges this month an army of young graduates are marching out to take up the serious problem of making a living. In many ways the future is not as bright as that which greeted their predecessors of a few years ago when times were good. Conditions in the industrial and professional fields are not favorable. Many with years of experience are having a hard time to get along. The competition which these newest recruits to the ranks of the nation's workers will encounter may seem unusual and exceptionally discouraging, but it is well to bear in mind that there always has been competition, and the successful man is the one who is able to overcome it. It will be well for the young folks to remember that father, mother, grandfather and grandmother also faced equally discouraging conditions, but they refused to be delayed for long, and it is in them to make good. So while the task of getting started may seem a bit more difficult than in former years, the mere strenuousness of the contest should be an incentive that will bring out individual capacity. It is wise to give weight to the element of time. The world was not made in a day. Those of this year's crop of graduates who have the proper spirit and right stuff in them will get ahead in the coming generation just as they have always done in the past.

Grayling Wins 26-4 From Eldorado Indians

Blackie's Blackbirds went on a slugging rampage last Sunday at the local diamond and pounded three Indian hurlers for a total of 24 hits, 11 of which were doubles. Three of these came from the bat of Reggie Sheehy, acting captain for the Blackbirds. The game was called after 6 1/2 innings of play due to the approaching darkness.

Batting averages soared for the local boys, Callahan got three hits out of four trips to the plate. Sheehy, Smith, Neal, Harrison and Baginski each getting 3 out of 4. The other three players each got 2 hits to aid their mates in reaching such an astounding total.

Baginski, from OCC Camp 674, a much better choice than the one used last week at Kalkaska, pitched hitless ball for four innings. Due to wildness in the first frame two batsmen were hit with pitched balls, and one was walked coupled with an infield out was instrumental in giving the Indians the first run of the game. Again in the fourth inning the Indians started a rally. An error by May, a walk, a wild pitch and two infield outs accounted for two more runs.

In the sixth inning Callahan was touched for the first Indian hit, a sharp single over second, but he was left stranded when the next batter bounced an easy hopper to Neal at second.

Rudy Harrison pitched the seventh for the Blackbirds. (It seemed all the boys wanted to pitch to try and even the score). Rudy was touched for Eldorado's second hit after one had walked, and on an infield out one run scored bringing Eldorado's total to four.

Gordon Pond and Jimmie Post were unable to participate in the onslaught. Gordon is favoring an injured right foot that happened to be between a cake of ice and the ground, while Jimmie was under the weather caused by stomach trouble.

Next Sunday the Blackbirds journey to Roscommon to take on the Ramblers in what seems beforehand to be a real battle. The Ramblers have a fast, hard-hitting ball club but the Blackbirds have tasted the cup of victory and from now on are out to win.

Chief Brand Club Have Grand Picnic

The "Chief Brand Club" of the Kerry & Hanson Flooring Co. held their first annual picnic last Sunday at Kyle Lake and was a wonderful success from start to finish.

There were about 160 weary, but happy people after the day was over but one and all agreed that it was a huge success from every angle. Transportation was amply provided for through the donation of two large trucks by Fred Welsh.

There were plenty of races for everybody, and plenty of thrills in every one, and ice cream, candy and lemonade galore for the kiddies, and you should have seen how the 65 youngsters did justice to themselves.

The ladies tug-of-war was quite an upset. The soft ball game was the main event for the men in the afternoon. Men 30 and over, played the men 30 and under for a substantial prize. The greybeards won 7 to 3 in 7 innings. Bill Wilson's home run in the seventh inning with the bases full decided the game definitely. After the ball game all returned to the concession tent for refreshments, and then there was bathing, lunch and home, tired but happy.

HATFIELD REUNION

A family reunion was held at the farm home of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Hatfield of Beaver Creek, Sunday, June 17, the occasion being Mrs. Hatfield's 59th birthday. A lovely pot luck dinner was served on tables, beautifully decorated, on their lawn.

A ball game was enjoyed by the men folks, also many other games by the children. Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Annis, friends of many years, dropped in and Mr. Annis furnished music on his violin which was more than enjoyed. And there was an old time square dance on the lawn.

Relatives came from Lansing, Farwell, Owosso, Cadillac, Flint, Carson City and Mt. Morris, and all reported having a grand time and hoped to spend many more birthdays with Mrs. Hatfield.

Coolley Store Robbers Caught In Bay City

Lyle Vanidour and Francis Essex, one of whom is 18 and the other 18 years, both of Bay City, are under arrest in the latter city charged with 17 crimes. Among them is one for breaking and entering the Cooley Gift Shop here on the night of May 6th. Both boys have made sworn confessions to the latter offense.

In their story about the local offense they said that they were put off from a freight train that evening. They bummed around town during the evening then went to the hobo camp west of town. Returning they watched the local officials. At about 1:30 p. m. Sheriff Bennett, they said, went home. Then they circled the business block in which the Cooley store is located, and not seeing the night marshal they broke into the store, taking jewelry amounting to about $500.00. They immediately left town and picked up a ride to Bay City.

They tried to sell some of the watches and other jewelry but nobody would buy. Some of it they smashed and some they threw into the river, only keeping some of the choicest.

Their arrest came when they were caught stealing an automobile. A short time before that offense they said that they broke into a garage and stole a new Buick car. Then they stole another, and were caught.

It is reported that they are on parole from the boys reformatory. Thus run the early chapters of two young juveniles who seem bent upon careers of crime. Just what will be done about the local offense depends, our officers say, upon what is done with them in Bay City. If let off with suspended sentence, it is the intention to bring them here to be tried on a charge of "breaking and entering in the night time." They were armed at the time which makes the offense greater.

WHAT I LEARNED ABOUT GANDHI

Nila Cram Cook, the American girl who was one of Gandhi's disciples until a few months ago, tells what she learned from the Mahatma and reveals some secrets about India's holy fanatic in an article in The American Weekly with The Detroit Sunday Times of June 24.

President Roosevelt asks Congress to review its action of placing a three-cent excise tax on coconut oil. Taking off this tax would help a lot of farmers—they could then buy their oleomargarine cheaper.

WE ARE glad to report that at two jances held in Temple theatre since our last edition, were reported as orderly and without disturbance. There was a good attendance at the Firemen's dance Wednesday night, and also at the Frank Bridges dance at the Temple Saturday night. Trouble makers and noisy drunks were not admitted, and the dancers had enjoyable evenings. People like to dance and this affords those who sponsor such parties an opportunity to earn a livelihood. Just as long as these affairs are not the cause of disturbances so as to become a nuisance, we're sure nobody will object. Frank Bridges who sponsors the Saturday night dances, is a good citizen and deserves the support of the public, and any criticisms that may have been offered were in no way against him personally. Neighbors had been complaining against unnecessary and disturbing noises and vile, filthy and profane language in the vicinity of the Temple at times when dances were on. Last Saturday night's crowd was orderly, and sociable, and it is gratifying to know that a way has been found for keeping these affairs orderly. Credit is partly due our local officers and also some of the CCC camp officials for disciplining some of their young men who have been coming here to the dances.

Prosecuting Attorney Merle F. Nellist was out of town during the middle of the week and we've been wondering whether he was attending the pre-primary convention at Battle Creek or the state prosecuting attorney's convention that is being held at the Soo. Which, Merle?

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Sales and Mr. and Mrs. William Misner were guests of Mr. and Mrs. George Skingley last Thursday. The party left Marshall's landing in two canoes and went as far as Jasper's landing, where dinner was prepared in the open and much enjoyed.

Mrs. Louis Kesseier left Monday to spend several days in Detroit.

Interesting Events In Grayling 23 Years Ago

INTERESTING ITEMS OF NEWS GATHERED FROM THE FILES OF THE AVALANCHE OF 23 YEARS AGO

Thursday, June 22, 1911

Mr. Nora Bell Walton and Miss Grace Miller of Gladwin, are here for their summer vacation at the home of Prosecuting Attorney Walton, father of Miss Walton.

Elmer Ostrander took home a gasoline engine, with a sawing machine and force pump last Monday for use on his farm. He is "getting there with both feet."

F. J. Wilcox has sold his home here to Robert Ziebell, who is moving here from Lewiston.

The "Old Man" and Comrade Dell Smith are in attendance at the G. A. R. Encampment, at Ypsilanti.

Mrs. Dr. Westcott and children are at the old home for a few days. She will visit and try to keep those brothers of hers in line during the absence of the parents.

Mrs. John Harrington and Mrs. Hugh Oaks are attending the G. A. R. convention at Ypsilanti this week.

Edward Sorenson has been appointed postmaster at Michelson in place of A. E. Michelson, resigned.

Rev. J. J. Reiss left last Monday for Ludington, Mich., to assist at the wedding of a friend and also to visit with his parents for a few days.

Supervisor Barnes of South Branch was in the city last week and reports three Ohio farmers already located in that township this spring, and all delighted with the prospect for success.

Attend the baseball game Sunday afternoon, at 3:00 o'clock at the ball grounds between the Grayling Dowel Co. boys and the Grayling Stars.

"Jimmy" Hartwick arrived in his boyhood home on Saturday and spent two pleasant days on the AuSable with his old comrade M. Hanson. Needless to say both accomplished fishermen returned with the limit the law allows.

The home of N. Michelson was made lively on Sunday last by the visit of three young grandsons from Johannesburg and Master Robert Hartwick from Detroit. Mr. and Mrs. F. L. made the drive from Johannesburg in their automobile returning Sunday afternoon.

Chas. Richardson, of South Branch, lost his home by fire last Thursday evening.

Simply smiling, she admitted that she does not wish to live too much longer, "as it is getting a little dull now that I can't use my eyes to read anymore." Standing up to her, she said, "I don't want to go out on the porch. I just stay in my rocking chair and sing."

No, this leads to no platitudes on how one deprived of everything can still make life "interesting." With all admiration for this woman's courage and sustained sense of humor, with all respect for the pluck that, lacking anything else, can still sit back and sing, we can cast no rose-colored light on the threadbareness of her existence.

What is inescapable, though it does smack of drawing a moral, is the contrast between such a life and anyone who knows among those who are the worst off in the world. The question is, how many of them sing?

Question Box By ED WYNN The Perfect Fool

Dear Mr. Wynn:

I am a poor woman and sell doughnuts for a living. I charge three cents apiece for the doughnuts. One man says he will buy a dozen doughnuts every day if I will take off one cent from the price of each doughnut, for the hole. I can't afford to sell them cheaper than three cents and would like him for a customer. What shall I do?

Sincerely,
OLIVE OYLE

Answer: The next time you see him tell him you have decided to give him one cent for each hole when he returns the holes.

Dear Mr. Wynn:

I am in love with a young lady and I thought she loved me too. Last night I called at her house and her sister told me my girl was not at home. I happened to look on the rack in the hall and I saw my girl's hat hanging there, so I knew she was home. I never want to see her again. Am I right?

Sincerely,
BOB O. LINK

Answer—You are acting silly, because you saw her hat in the hall you say she must have been home. In that case, if you saw your girl's stocking in the wash you'd swear she was in the laundry.

Dear Mr. Wynn:

My father told me that a "wind-up" and a "wind-up" were just the same. How can that be?

Yours truly,
FRANK LEE SPEAKING

Answer—Your father's advice is very good. He means that when you get near either of them, you want to look out.

Dear Mr. Wynn:

A girl friend of mine was married yesterday and of course I went to the wedding. Some relatives brought their baby to the wedding and all during the ceremony the baby cried. It seemed to spoil the whole thing. I expect to be married very shortly and I want to know how I can keep the guests from bringing babies to the wedding. What shall I do?

Sincerely,
N. GAUGED

Answer—When you have your wedding invitations printed just have printed in one corner of the invitations—"No Babies Expected."

Ancient Stocks in England
Visitors to England passing through the village of Albury, Hertfordshire, a few miles from London, may see the old village stocks where vagrants, trespassers, poachers and ne'er-do-wells had their ankles pinioned in a pair of notched planks. Several could be dealt this cruel type of justice at one time.

PRUNE-MINDED

First Chorus Girl—Still, I think all the show needs is a little pruning.
Second Chorus Girl—Not it's full of prunes now.

ROUGH TREATMENT

"Say, Weary, what did they do at that last laundry you tackled?"
"Everything. First they collared me, then they cuffed me and then they took the starch out of me."

CONSOLIDATED

Tommy—Where are those apples that were on the top shelf in the cupboard?
Tommy—Guess they are with the one that was on the bottom shelf!

FOR DIGESTION

"De lady in de next house give me a piece of homemade cake. Won't you give me somethin', too?"
"Certainly! I'll get you a peppermint."

TIMESAVERS

"I'll be busy on this trip."
"I know, I have 40 to 60 love letters you wrote me when we were engaged. Take them along and mail me one every day."

FINANCIAL NOTE

"It depends on whether she is a king or a queen or an in-law."

Blarney Stone Kissers

Slide Through Opening

There possibly is more "blarney" in circulation about the Blarney stone than ever was imparted to persons who have kissed that famous Irish rock, declares a writer in the Philadelphia Record.

There is general denial that the stone is hard to reach. This may have been true when Cormac MacCarthy built the sturdy castle, some five miles northeast of Cork, about 800 years ago.

The stone is situated at the top of a massive donjon tower, rising 120 feet above the beautiful greenward surrounding the castle. It is a lower outside stone—part of a parapet surrounding the tower.

In the old days, brave sons of Erin were supposed to hang over the outside of the parapet to reach the stone for the occasion ceremony. It is said they even hung by their toes—if they had no help and were a bit short.

A hole large enough for a person to slide through pierces the parapet on a level with the lower floor. Iron bars clasped to the stone serve as hand-grips. With back to the floor the person desiring to kiss the stone may slide through the hole in ease and comparative safety. Some timid souls still insist on a companion holding their feet.

Turnip, Growing Wild, First Found by Greeks

The turnip has been used as food since ancient times. The Greeks found it growing wild and cultivated it. Pliny, the Roman historian, reported turnips weighing 40 pounds. During the Middle Ages, turnips were used throughout Europe.

Before the introduction of potatoes in England, the turnip was of great importance, and in Wales it remained the chief vegetable food of the poorer classes until the nineteenth century. The picture of a turnip was used in the coat of arms of many noblemen to represent a person of good disposition and one who relieved the poor.

In Germany during the World War the turnip crop was at times the chief source of food supply. During the winter of 1917 it became customary to eat turnips with nearly every meal, either boiled, fried, or ingeniously disguised to bread or coffee. For this reason, the winter of 1917 is often referred to in Germany as the "turnip winter."

The primitive species of turnip, from which the cultivated strains have been developed, grows wild in Russia and the Scandinavian peninsula.

Oysters Once Foot Wide

Had there been men on the earth to eat them, one oyster of the oolitic or miocene period, 18,000,000 to 20,000,000 years ago, would have been sufficient to provide a feast for an entire family and their guests, as against a half dozen to a dozen oysters on the half shell for each individual. Fossil shells of some of these giant prehistoric mollusks are on exhibition in the Chicago Field museum. They range from 4 to 12 inches in diameter, and the shells alone weigh as much as 16 pounds. They were obtained in southern Argentina from ledges of ancient sandstone and gravel in which they had been buried so many millions of years. The prehistoric oyster beds from which they came occur over several hundred miles along the coast. Many of the shells are also found far inland, and are thus among the indications that, some ago, a sea covered the continent.—Field Museum News.

The Nature of Braille

Six dots, arranged like the six dots of a domino, give the blind a key which opens out for them the whole range of literature and music. By cutting out one or more of these dots, sixty-three different combinations can be formed, and the inner-combinations possibly are innumerable. This is the famous Braille system, called Braille after its inventor, and it is used by blind readers and writers in every part of the world. The sixty-three combinations allow sufficient variety to cover any alphabet and also the punctuation marks and contractions. They can also be applied to numbers and music symbols. A thorough knowledge of the Braille system can be acquired in a few weeks' study, and proficiency in reading—performed by the fingers—is obtainable after about six months.—Montreal Herald.

Idols on Top of Mountain

On the top of a mountain in Mexico, 14,000 feet above sea level, explorers found several idols, bits of pottery and other clay pieces, lending credence to the legend that this lofty eminence was once the site of an ancient Indian temple. This is believed to be the highest point in North America, where Indians once worshipped, says Popular Mechanics Magazine. At one time, it is believed, there was a shrine on top of the mountain to which Indians came to offer gifts to the "God of the Mountain" when desiring rain and good crops. The Indians today, however, believe the top of this mountain is inhabited by an evil spirit which drops rocks on daring climbers.

Completely mixed grasshopper bait is now available to the farmers of Crawford county. This poison bait is furnished free of charge to the farmers by the Federal Government and the County in a cooperative project.

The bran and the arsenic is furnished by the Federal Government while the other ingredients of the bait as well as the mixing is being taken care of by the county. At the present market prices the material furnished by the Federal agencies costs approximately four times as much as the materials furnished by the county.

The hot dry weather earlier in the season has been very favorable for the development of the grasshoppers and unless this material had been obtained it is probable that the farmers of the county would suffer severe crop damage from the hoppers. The most effective time to spread the poison bran bait for the hoppers is before the pests get their full growth and before they have done much actual damage. Experience has shown that the spreading of the bait when the hoppers are in their present stage of development will prevent any serious crop damage. With the free bait available the farmers of Crawford county should be able to keep the hopper pests well under control this season.

Farmers receiving the poison bait should keep in mind that they are dealing with a strong poison. The materials which have been added to the mixture to make it attractive to the hoppers also make it attractive to livestock. Care should be used in keeping the supply of poison bait away from livestock. Cattle have been known to even relish the sacks in which the bait has been stored for a short time. Keep the stock supply of the poison bait away from livestock and there is no danger of livestock loss due to poisoning.

The bait is effective in killing grasshoppers when spread at the rate of 5 to 10 pounds per acre. In spreading care should be used to see to it that the bait is spread in flakes and not in small lumps. When properly applied at the rate of 5 to 10 pounds per acre there is no danger of poisoning livestock.

Farmers wishing bait should bring their own sacks and apply in person at the barn at the County Farm at Grayling.

According to A. C. Baltzer, of the dairy department, Michigan State College, milk is recognized as nature's perfect food. Milk contains in balanced amounts, the following food materials: Protein, casein, milk fat, milk sugar, and milk minerals, plus all of the vitamins in varying amounts. These food constituents are suspended in milk serum or a certain percentage of water which goes to make up the substance matter of milk.

One of the most valuable substances in milk is the protein which is muscle building, and permits body growth to occur. It also repairs tissues. Because the protein is complete in its form, namely, it has all of the amino acids required by the system to both build and repair muscle. Milk protein is doubly valuable to

MY CABIN

By ANNE CAMPBELL

I SHALL have a cabin with no pictures in it. There will be wide windows gleaming in the sun. Every unken frame will hold a landscape in it. Changing in the morning and the setting sun.

Nothing ever painted will excel the splendor Of the lovely scenes that bless my weary gaze. Dawn will come with fingers silver-tipped and slender, And the midnight moon will leave her misty ways.

Paintings cannot tempt me when the hills and valleys March outside my window in eternal pride. From my hilltop cabin where the east wind dallies, I shall see the treasures Time has defied.

SOME GOOD DRINKS

When the weather is either unseasonably hot or too cool we need, some days, a chilling, tinkling drink and the next a hot one. A delightful drink that will appeal to nearly all tastes is the following fruit drink:

Fruit Iced Tea.
Make one cup of strong tea, using two or three teaspoons of the tea to a cupful of boiling water. Let it stand five minutes to steep, then chill. Squeeze the juice of four lemons, three oranges and add enough sugar to sweeten. Chill with plenty of ice, add a half gallon of water and serve with thin slices of orange and lemon floating on the glass.

Mulled Cider.
Put one quart of sweet cider into a saucepan. Add one small stick of cinnamon broken into pieces, one-half teaspoon of whole allspice, six whole cloves and one small piece of ginger root. Bring to the boiling point, let boil three minutes. Strain and turn into a hot stone pitcher, serve hot in small steins. Hot gingerbread, snappy cheese mixed with fish cream, makes a palatable luncheon with a stein of cider.

Delicious Punch.
Prepare a sirup of one cup of sugar, one-half cup of water, cook until it spins a thread; pour the sirup over three beaten egg whites and add slowly to one quart of freshly made English breakfast tea infusion which has been chilled; add this mixture to one quart of lemon flavored ice cream and mix thoroughly; turn into a freezer and freeze to a mush. Serve from a punch bowl in tall thin glasses.

Ginger Ale Cream.
Serve ice cream in tall glasses, fill up with ginger ale.

Chocolate Ice Cream Soda.
Into a tumbler put a small cone of ice cream, pour over this two tablespoons of chocolate sirup and fill the glass with chilled soda water drawn from a siphon.

Ginger Ale Cobbler.
Fill soda water glasses half full of finely crushed ice, add one slice of pineapple (the small size), then fill with ginger ale. Serve at once.

Ensemble for Beach

This beach coat is Mexican effect in of white and henna cotton and is trimmed with large wooden buttons. The hat of sombrero type is of rough straw.

Talkative Politician
Jud Tunkins says a politician is like the magician who lifts a rabbit out of a silk hat. He has to keep talking all the time and the patter is the best part of the trick.

CASH REGISTER

THE delicate clang of the cash register keys, accompanied by an insistent obligato of cash drawers opening and closing is music to the merchant's ears. What annoys most merchants today is the extremely slow tempo in which this commercial music is played on their cash registers. Today, as yesterday, accelerating the pace of your cash register is accomplished by tuning up on your advertising. The Avalanche reaches, by reason of its wide circulation, those purchasing markets that still make purchases, that still build sales for merchants, that still read the Avalanche for news of bargains, seasonal merchandise, innovations, and competitive prices—markets that will keep your cash registers busy. To set your cash registers clanging, get the people to buy from you by advertising in the Avalanche.

Get Phone 111 or pop us a card, and we will send you a representative who will explain in detail the benefits derived from advertising in the Avalanche.

Don't forget Gaylord's Out-Door festival that will occur next Saturday and Sunday. Why not send a Grayling float to take part in the parade, and our band and bugle corps? Mio is having an out-door sports affair at the same time. Save time for at least one of these events. Take the family and have a good time.

Franklin Williams, an Indian residing in the home formerly occupied by the Kechittigo family, is pretty expert in making bows and arrows. They are made of hickory and are durable and have great driving power. He sells them too cheaply—only $1.00 for the large sizes and small ones for a quarter. He should sell a lot of them for that price.

John Guggisberg of Gaylord is out for state legislator in the Cheboygan-Otsego district. He is the first candidate Otsego county has had in many years and the people there feel that it is about time that they were considered. And why not, especially when they offer a candidate like John. We would like to see him in the legislature from that district. He is capable in every way to represent his district.

Lt. Mears of Dayton, Ohio, had a forced landing of his airplane at Lovells Sunday, which was badly damaged. Engine trouble forced the pilot to land and fearing that a landing in an open field nearby might cause a nose turn, he chose to land in the Ward pine nursery. Quite a number of small pine trees were mowed down and the fuselage was wrecked. Lt. Mears said that it was hardly likely that any more than the motor can be salvaged. He escaped without injury.

parties. These political parties come in for the bulk of the criticism because they are the dominant parties, but critical political writers seem to forget that the faults which exist today in those parties are not chargeable to the people of America who have been remiss in their political duties. They appear to forget just what the people in them permit them to be. A lot of people are growing politically minded today, because they have suffered from depression, who were too selfish or too shiftless or too indifferent to take an interest in politics when the going was good. Citizenship involves responsibilities which they were unwilling to assume, with the result that selfish men took advantage of their inaction and ran the political parties to suit themselves. There is nothing fundamentally wrong with the republican and democratic parties, and they are probably as good vehicles for the expression of public will as any party could be, the trouble being that over fifty per cent of the people made no effort to obtain an intelligent knowledge of government and give expression to their will through political activity; and will be equally true of new political parties which so many people are anxious to form—they can function only as the people show intelligent and active interest. We believe two great political parties in our country, in which all the people are actively engaged, can do more good than a number of parties, and there isn't a governmental evil complained of today that cannot be remedied through the two major parties now existing if the people will throw off their political lethargy and get busy.—The Casopolis Vigilant.

COUNTY GOVERNMENT COSTS

Detroit—dynamic and defaulting—now comes forth with ideas how many of the counties of the state, some 32 of them, should consolidate and thus cut the cost of government in two!

The Detroit Free Press glibly tells how any county with a population of less than 17,000 should consolidate with an adjoining county and presto! expenses are cut in half. They point out as a horrible example the town of Hesperia which is located on the county line of Oceana and Newaygo counties. The Free Press intimates that the citizens of Hesperia are lying awake nights thinking what an awful expense it is to have two counties there instead of one, having in mind that two sets of county officials are needed for Oceana's and Newaygo's 30,000 population, while not far away in Muskegon County where one set of officials care for 86,000 residents. The Press will bet a pair of country editor's pants to a brain-truster's bottle of hair oil that the cost of county government in Muskegon County is three times what it is in Newaygo and Oceana combined.

Perhaps there are very sparsely settled counties in some portions of the state that could be consolidated and it would be a sound economic proposition but it is doubtful.

In the first place, the cost of county government in the small counties is very low. In Lapeer County with its 28,348 population the entire costs of county government, not including a $102,500 budget for welfare is only $37,500 for the present year. Compare this with Genesee County. Genesee has a population of 211,641. The cost of county government there, excluding $463,680 for the poor fund, is $272,320. So you see the cost of county government is almost in direct ratio with the population. Whether a county is consolidated with another or not would have no effect on the amount necessary for the care of the poor. The poor we will always have with us—be the county large or small.

County officials in the smaller counties work for low salaries. In Lapeer County (population 28,348) the salaries range from $1125 to $2250 a year. In the smaller counties to the north county officials draw $800 to $1500 a year and get along with a $10 a week clerk. In those counties as well as in Lapeer, the counties' officials put in long hours at their desks every day. Their jobs are not sinecures. They have no private offices where black cigars are smoked and political plots hatched. They are on the firing line every day for six days a week.

Consolidating counties would not lessen the work to be done. What does it matter whether two do the work in the county treasurer's office at Lapeer or consolidate with Tuscola and have four do the job?

Then there is the matter of transportation cost and inconvenience to residents. With counties as they are now the average resident of the county can travel to the county seat in about 12 miles. Place the county seats twice as far apart and that average distance is doubled, and the cost is doubled. Figuring five cents a mile cost, a county with 5000 families has a traveling cost of $60,000 for a trip to the county seat and return. Every family makes at least one trip to the county seat in a year. Double the distance to the county capitol and there is another $60,000 cost which the taxpayer must pay for transportation.

In addition, there is danger in the more centralization idea behind the county consolidation movement. Folks are learning that the further away the government is, the higher the cost and the greater the leaks. Keep the government close to the people at home and the cost is much lower in proportion.

County consolidation will not work nor will the people of Michigan ever approve of it—even if Detroit is ready to tell the folks up in the sticks how to run their business.—Lapeer County News.

LOVELLS

(By Mrs. C. Nephew)

Mr. and Mrs. Glen Pierceson have moved to Grayling.

Miss Martha Vollmer of Frederic was a guest at the Glen Gregg home Sunday.

Mr. Corsaut and daughter Helma of Frederic were callers in Lovells last Sunday.

There was a little excitement in Lovells last Sunday about three-thirty. An army plane crashed about a half mile from Lovells in the Anderson pines. It tore the pines up for about 10 rods. The plane was badly damaged. Luckily the pilot was not hurt.

Mrs. Frank Eaman is entertaining a party of friends at her lodge near Lovells.

There was an exciting ball game played in town last Thursday evening between our ball boys and the old time players. The scores were 9-9 in favor of who?

Mr. and Mrs. Chandler Symons and children of Saginaw enjoyed a few days at the Kuehl cabin.

The Cheerful Givers met at the home of Mrs. J. E. Kellogg last Thursday.

The world sure has changed. Now they say that a woman's business life doesn't really begin until she is forty. In the old days when a woman arrived at the fortieth milestone she used to settle down to become a nice, plump grandmother.

Lt. Flewelling has been named Mess Officer to succeed Capt. Nester.

In his talk to the boys of 672, Prof. Jotter divided Michigan conservation history into three parts: (1) The days of gigantic forest growth or the Paul Bunyan period, (2) the time of denuding the forests by the lumber industry, which he calls the dark ages, (3) the present period of conservation which might be compared to the golden age.

Mr. Hanson, personal representative of Robert Fetchner, director of the Emergency Conservation work, held a conference in Grayling June 11. Many of the officers of the district met with him to discuss their problems.

672 having lost its library in the fire, the Chaplain is donating about 20 mystery "Thrillers" and Wild West stories for the use of the boys at Camp Higgins Lake.

According to "Happy Days" a prize of $5.00 is being given to the best looking man in the CCC. Send in your photo.
